

RECORDS REVEAL MORE INEBRIETY IN 1920 THAN 1919

Increase Mounts Steadily as Dry Law Grows Older,
Statistics Show.

Statistics made public by Chief City Magistrate McAdoo show that more persons were arraigned on the charge of drunkenness in New York City during the eleven and one-half months of 1920 in which National Prohibition was in effect than in the whole year of 1919.

From Jan. 17, 1920, the first court day after the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act went into operation, until Dec. 31, 1920, inclusive, 5,813 persons were arraigned on the intoxication charge in the Magistrates' Court throughout the city. The number of arraignments on the same charge in 1919 was 5,667. Accordingly, there were 146 more arraignments in eleven and one-half months of 1920 than in twelve months of 1919.

It was also shown in the statistics compiled from the official court records of 1920 that the number of arraignments for intoxication throughout the city had increased steadily each month of the year except June, when the summer exodus began. There was a great increase of drunkenness in December, which had 294 more arraignments than November. The increase throughout the year is shown by the following table:

January (half month).....	77
February.....	123
March.....	241
April.....	428
May.....	501
June.....	471
July.....	496
August.....	586
September.....	614
October.....	625
November.....	662
December.....	696
Total.....	5,813

Manhattan heads the list of the boroughs with 2,552 arraignments, but Brooklyn is not much dryer, as the records give it 2,370 arraignments. There were only 181 in the Bronx, which once had a cocktail named after it. In Queens there were 217 and in Richmond 92.

—And now comes the Down-Stairs Store's First Sale of Spring Dresses

Dresses for Women..... Dresses for Misses..... Silk Dresses
..... Wool Dresses..... Hundreds of Spring Models to choose from..... At prices so low you'll wonder how it all happened

$5.75 $7 $7.50 $9.75 $12.75 $15 $25

What's the story..... Just this:

Spring is not far off. Dresses are needed more than any other article of wearing apparel. So we started out to find the best dresses of the wanted kinds that could be had at these low prices.

The variety is very large; and the standard of quality and workmanship conforms to the well-known Wanamaker idea. There you have the story in general terms; and here are the details:

Good Serge Dresses, $5.75

Wool serge of a worth-while quality. Straight-line models, nicely embroidered. Sizes for misses, 16 and 18; for women, 32 to 44.

Good Wool Dresses, $7

*These are wool serges, braided or embroidered. Also wool jerseys, tunic models—always the most desirable. Sizes for misses, 16 and 18; for women, 36 to 44.

Look for these two groups in the Rotunda—

Down-Stairs Store, Old Building

Misses' Dresses, $7.50

Misses' sizes only in this group—14 to 20. A very interesting variety—serge with tricolette sashes; tricolette blouse models; silvertone, embroidered; silvertone velours in blouse models, and silvertone velours with all-over embroidered skirts. There are modifications of these styles—many of them.

Misses' Dresses, $9.75

Misses' sizes only—14 to 20. Serges, wool velours and mignonettes; blouse models; all-over embroidered skirts; tricolette sashes, and other features of trimming applied in many ways. A large and slightly group.

Misses' Dresses, $12.75

Sizes 14 to 20. Finer tricotines, some in blouse models with tricolette sashes. Wool jerseys in tunic models, embroidered; mignonettes, embroidered. Thoroughly practical frocks for business and street wear.

Misses' Dresses, $15

Sizes 14 to 20. Heavy tricotines, one a paneled skirt bound with black or white braid. Another has a satin underlay, with narrow tricolette panels. Others heavily embroidered or beaded. Every frock has a silk waist lining. A very attractive group. Look for these misses' dresses on the Broadway side—

Down-Stairs Store, Old Building

Women's Dresses, $15

All regular sizes from 34 to 44; and two models in extra sizes, 42½ to 50½. Eight new models in all, of wool serge and tricolette. Mostly navy; some with tricolette or satin sashes; some with satin drop skirts; many with elaborate embroidered effects. The good, substantial models that most women prefer, with fashion features that are conservative and in good taste.

Women's Dresses, $25

Sizes 34 to 44. Eight new models, four of which are made of taffeta in navy and black, in the good and wanted tunic models. One taffeta frock has a narrow-pleated tunic—a happy idea.

Then there are wool serges of a fine grade; tricolette that is always serviceable; crepe de chine in navy and black, and tricolette in brown, black and navy. The models are widely varied in trimming detail, which helps to make happy and satisfactory choosing.

Look for these on the Fourth Avenue side—

Danger signals of the skin

Pimples, blackheads and boils are signs of lowered vitality

THE causes of acne (pimples and blackheads) are always found in a lowered vitality," writes a skin specialist connected with several of New York's important hospitals. And "the repeated occurrence of boils should always be looked upon as an indication of lowered vitality," he also states.

Scientists now know that the real cause of the trouble may be some error in diet.

If the food we eat is poor in the newly discovered substance called vitamin, we fall off in health and easily get such ailments as pimples, blackheads and boils. Something is clearly needed to correct the basic trouble of these widespread complaints. And now scientists have discovered it in a familiar little cake of food.

It is now known that yeast is rich in a mysterious factor called vitamin—just the familiar cake of yeast that we have all known as good for just one thing, to raise bread. This vitamin we need throughout life. Without it we cannot get the strength and vigor from our food that we must have in order to keep in health. Yet many of our everyday foods lack this necessary vitamin.

To correct the widespread ailments of pimples, boils and constipation, physicians and hospitals are therefore prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast as an addition to the regular meals. As a result thousands of men and women are being freed of these painful and embarrassing minor ailments.

Yeast may be eaten like any other food. It is highly digestible. You may eat from one to three cakes a day. Within two weeks you should notice an improvement, but obstinate cases may require four or five weeks for the benefit to be apparent.

You will quickly learn to like the "cream-cheese" taste of Fleischmann's Yeast spread on cracker or bread, or just plain. If troubled with gas, dissolve yeast in boiling water.

Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it delivered fresh every day. To get the valuable free booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet," address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, Dept. 41 B, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

Typical cases: how they were helped

In investigations carried on in leading institutions in Philadelphia and New York, the value of Fleischmann's Yeast in treating pimples and boils was clearly demonstrated. There was rapid improvement in cases of acne, and cases of boils were either greatly improved or cured within two weeks.

One typical case of pimples was that of a patient who had had a moderate eruption on face and body for three years. Three cakes of yeast daily before meals were given and the eruption cleared almost completely in four weeks. For pimples and boils eat one to three cakes a day. In acute cases always consult your physician.
